ORCID's vision is a world where all who participate in research, scholarship, and innovation are uniquely identified and connected to their contributions and affiliations across disciplines, borders, and time

Together, we can make our vision a reality!

OUR GLOBAL COMMUNITY

- 6.6M+ researchers have registered for an iD. 2.7M+ have connected their iD with other information: 42M works, 600k+ grants, 600k+ reviews, 3.3M+ education and ~3M employment items
- 1,040+ member organizations in 47 countries have built ORCID into ~600 system integrations across all sectors of the research community
- 20 ORCID consortia in the UK, Finland, Sweden, Norway, Denmark, Netherlands, Belgium, Germany, Austria, Portugal, Greece, Italy, Israel, South Africa, Taiwan, Australia, New Zealand, Brazil, Canada, and US

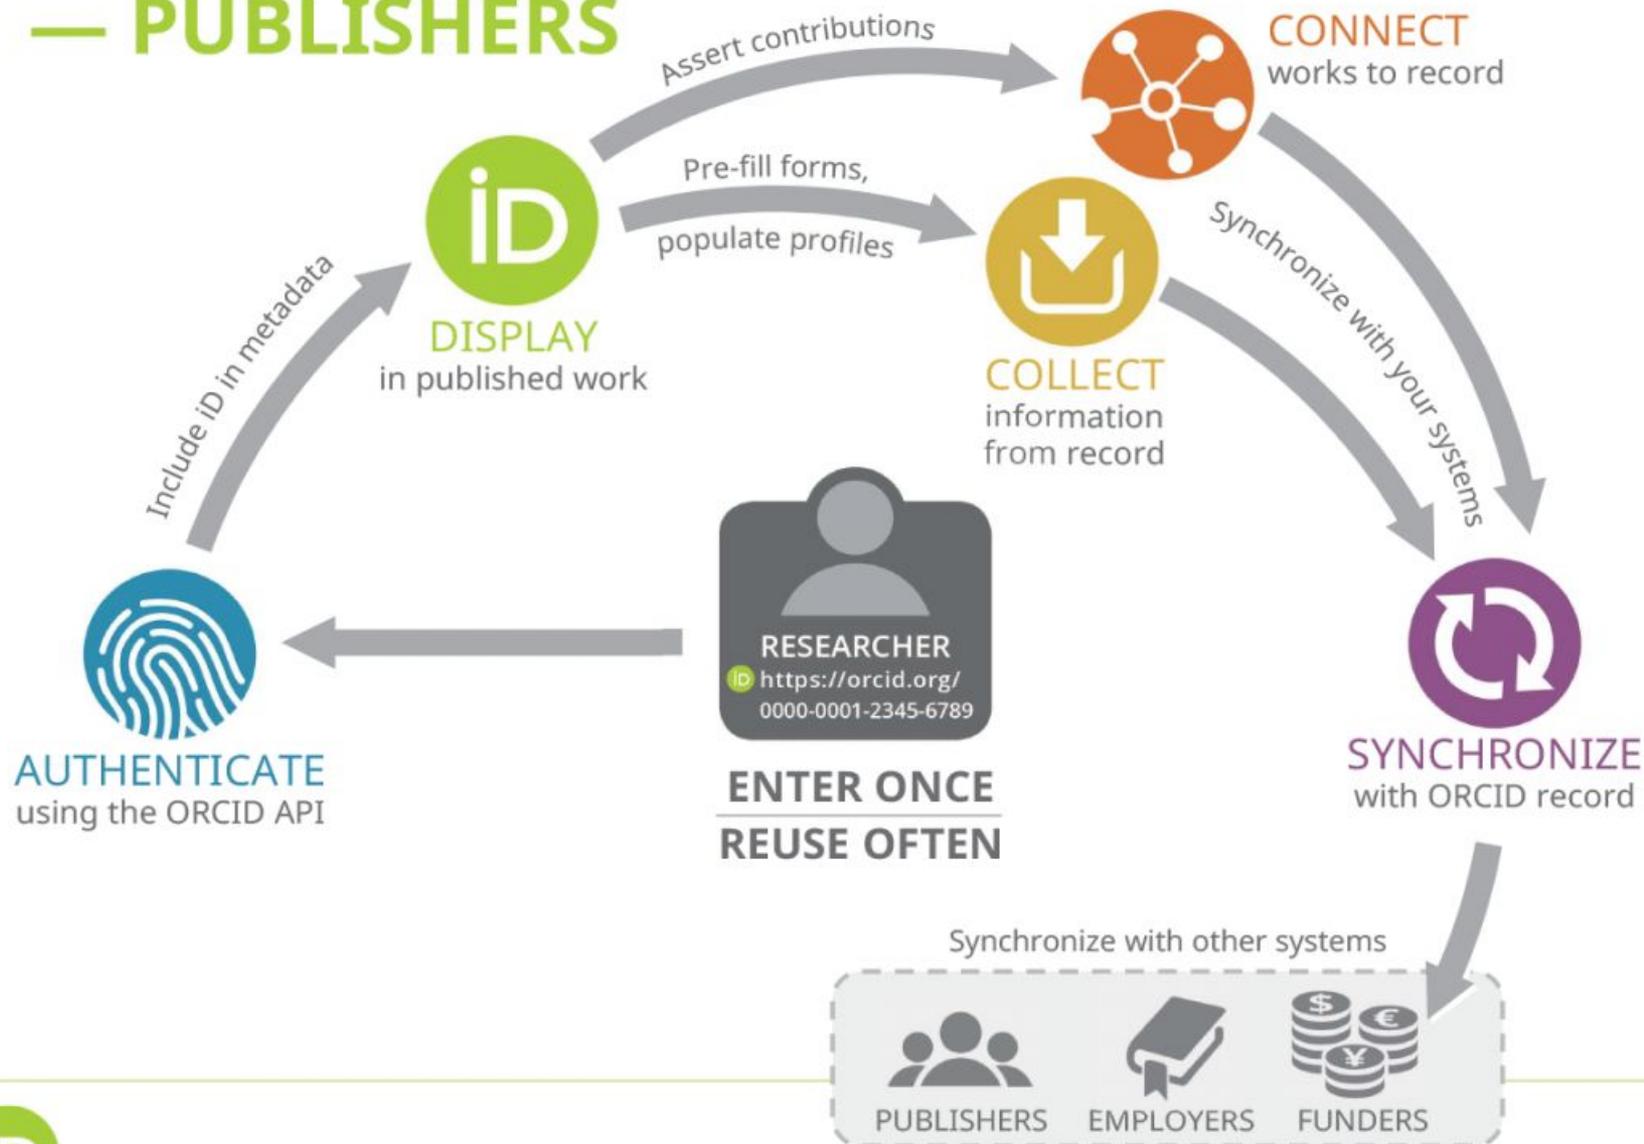

ORCID IN PUBLISHING WORKFLOWS

- Journal manuscript submission
 - At submission
 - At acceptance
 - Corresponding author or all authors
- Peer review
 - Individual peer review activities
 - Peer review service over time
- Books submission
- Editorial Board onboarding and recognition

COLLECT & CONNECT WORKFLOW

— PUBLISHERS

AUTHENTICATE

Authenticate ORCID iDs to ensure individuals are correctly identified in your systems, eg, for single sign on

- Provide an ORCID-branded button or link for collecting iDs
- AUTHENTICATE iDs during collection
- Explain why you collect authenticated iDs

ORCID
ORCID Connect

has asked for the following access to your ORCID Record

DISPLAY

Display iDs to signal to researchers that your information systems support ORCID and enable discovery and recognition

- Store and publicly DISPLAY iDs in publications
- DISPLAY the authenticated ORCID iDs in metadata
- Explain why you display iDs

CONNECT

Connect information to ORCID records for trusted sharing with other organizations your researchers use

- CONNECT your researchers' publications/reviews/service activities to their ORCID records
- Include assertion metadata for each item
- Explain your system connections with ORCID and benefits to researchers

The screenshot shows a list of works in an ORCID interface. At the top, there is a header bar with the text "Works (29 of 29)" and several action buttons: "+ Add works", "Export works", "Bulk edit", and "Sort". Below this, two work entries are visible. Each entry includes a title, source information, date, and DOI, along with a set of icons for actions like view, share, and lock.

Work Title	Source	Date	DOI	Preferred Source

ORCID: Why, What, How?	DataCite	2017	10.23640/07243.4981874	Yes

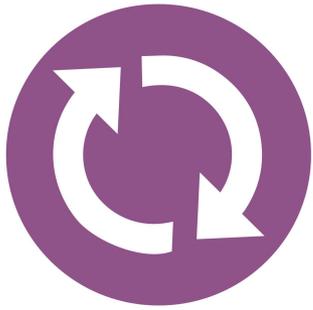

COLLECT

Collect information from ORCID records to fill forms and support analysis and reporting

- COLLECT information from ORCID records
- Use the data COLLECTED to complete online m/s forms
- Explain why you collect ORCID information

- ORCID: 0000-0001-5727-2427
- Title:
- * First Name:
- Middle Name:
- * Last Name:
- * Primary Email Address:

SYNCHRONIZE

Synchronize information between ORCID records and your systems to improve reporting accuracy, speed, and trust in research infrastructure

- Make CONNECTIONS and COLLECTIONS between ORCID records and your own systems, updating information as it changes
- Provide a mechanism to accept and act on correction requests from ORCID users, eg, incorrect iDs in DOIs
- Explain the benefits for researchers of SYNCHRONIZATION

WHAT'S NEW IN ORCID API 3.0?

- New affiliation types -- recognize researchers for more of their contributions
 - Qualifications (non academic)
 - Membership and service (eg editorial, review)
 - Invited positions and distinctions (awards, fellowships, etc)
- Research resources -- connect information about the use of facilities, etc to ORCID records
- Token delegation -- permission- sharing with other members to enable easier workflows for researchers and service providers
- Schema changes to enable "on behalf of" -- see the source of information on ORCID records

The Int. Journal of Quantum Chemistry is piloting a new way to collect and publish article Acknowledgments, where Funding Information, Research Resources, and other acknowledgements not related to grants or awards received in order to complete the research will be in three separate sections in the published article. Research Resources are non-monetary awards typically received via a proposal process or by credential to access, such as supercomputing time at a recognized facility. You can also record these awards on your ORCID profile. For more details see the information about Research Resources here: <https://orcid.org/organizations/research-orgs/resources> and in the table below.
